REV. W. J. FORD RESIGNS. Pastor of Green Ridge Baptist Church Has Accepted a Call from Church in Jamestown, N. Y.

Rev. William J. Ford, pastor of the Green Ridge Baptist church, has resigned his pastorate and has accepted a call extended him by the congregation of the First Baptist church, of Jamestown, N. Y.

The resignation has been accepted by the board of trustees and Rev. Mr. Ford will preach his last sermon in this city on the second Sunday in March. The pastorate which he goes to fill is the one recently vacated by Rev. Dr. Helling, formerly pastor of the Penn avenue Baptist church, who has accepted a call to the First Baptist church of Buffalo.

Rev. Mr. Ford is one of the most eloquent of the city's younger clergymen. He came here direct from the seminary upon the organization of the Green Ridge Baptist church nine years ago and has remained as pastor ever since. His deep earnestness and tireless labor for the cause of Christ has endeared him to the hearts of the members of his congregation, who are loathe to part with him.

The board of trustees have not yet decided to extend a call to any particular clergymen though several names are under consideration.

GRAND CONCERT COMPANY. To Give a Concert at High School Tuesday Night.

The Grand concert company will appear at the High school next Tuesday evening as the sixth number of the course. The company is composed of Sibyl Sammis, soprano; George H. Downing, bass; Melville Clark, baritone; Nels Alton-Hesslein, pianist.

Mr. Downing is a baritone of fine quality and wide range. He has sung in this city, and The Tribune at that time said of him: "Mr. Downing's voice fitted him to a T, and he sang masterfully with a fine outpouring and sonorous voice." Miss Sammis, the soprano, has traveled with Schumann-Heink. She has charmed large audiences wherever she has appeared. The number will be one of the best of the course, and should not be missed by any of the ticket holders. The program is now at Powell's.

DALTON PROPERTY. For $1,000 Less Than Value, on Account of Owner's Expected Change of Residence.

The above property is one of the most complete residences in Dickson. There are 12 the rooms, with bath and every convenience, such as furnace, range, hot and cold water, etc. Large, wide porches on two sides of house; beautiful shade trees and shrubs, with fine lawn, and an abundance of fruit. The barn is in keeping with the house. This property is offered for $4,500 until March 1, when it will be withdrawn from the market if not sold. See W. T. Hackett, the real estate dealer, at the Price Building, Scranton, Pa.

MARRIED. DEANHAM-TALLMAN.—At the home of the bride, Thompson, Pa., on Wednesday, Feb. 20, at 2 p. m., Harrie Deanham and Miss Maud Tallman, both of Thompson, by Rev. A. D. David, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church.

WOELKERS IS NOT ELECTED

Congratulations can now be resumed.

Court Refuses to Order a Recount of the Vote in the First District of the Eleventh Ward Because the Evidence of Illegal Counting Was Not Clear, Satisfying and Without Serious Contradiction—No Authority to Recount the Vote of a Borough or Township.

In yesterday's Tribune it was announced that Constable Joseph P. Woelkers, of the Eleventh ward, was not as yet surely defeated and that those of the citizens of the Eleventh ward and the community in general who were congratulating themselves on his defeat were a bit premature in their congratulations.

The congratulations can be resumed. Woelkers is defeated.

The misgivings as to his defeat were due to a motion by Woelkers for a recount, founded on admissions of certain of the election board of the First district of the Eleventh ward that four palpably illegal ballots, containing votes for Woelkers' opponent, Peter Marker, had been accepted as legal and counted. If this was true it would mean that Woelkers was elected by a majority of three, as Marker's majority on the face of the returns was only one.

Judges Edwards and Kelly decided to look into the matter and ordered the election board to appear for examination. The members thereof presented themselves yesterday morning pursuant to this order and proceeded to tell about the alleged illegal counting.

WHAT AFFIDAVIT SAID. According to Woelkers' affidavit the board counted three ballots on which a cross was made in the circle at the head of the Republican column and a cross in the square following the name of the Democratic assessor. All the Republican candidates were accredited with a vote apiece and no vote was recorded for either assessor. Marker, being the Republican candidate, was accredited with a vote. There was also one ballot on which the name of Woelkers had been scratched out and that of Marker written immediately underneath. The decisions of the supreme court make these ballots unquestionably illegal. All four of them should have been thrown out.

When the members of the election board came to the stand yesterday, their testimony was found to be in conflict. Most of them agreed that they remembered having counted these four ballots, but some maintained that there were quite as many if not more ballots counted in which a cross appeared in the circle at the head of the Democratic column and a cross in the square following the name of the Republican column.

THE JUDGES AGREED. Judge Kelly was not able to be present on account of illness, but Judges Edwards and Newcomb agreed that the evidence did not size up to the standard demanded for warranting a recount. Some of them have held that the judges have no right to open a ballot box under any circumstances except in an election contest. The ruling of the Lackawanna court is that a recount may be had when it is shown by clear satisfactory, and not seriously contradicted testimony that the count of the election board was illegal and that the illegality affected the result.

Judge Edwards, for the court, announced that the testimony was not considered to be of such a character as would warrant the opening of the box, and the question of Mr. Woelkers would have to be refused.

This means that the Eleventh ward will have to worry along without Woelkers as constable.

As foreshadowed in The Tribune, the motion for a recount of the vote of the Eleventh ward was refused. The court ruled that it has no authority to renew the count in a municipal election in a borough or township, except in an election contest.

Reilly and Field were tied at 315. Reilly demanded a recount alleging that the board counted for Reid a vote on a ballot which had the mark at the head of the column completely outside the circle.

Put Him Out of Business. Max Foulback, an Old Forge plumber, instituted trespass suit against the Scranton Railway company yesterday, demanding $5,000 damages for personal injuries, the death of a horse and the demolition of a wagon, resulting from a collision with a street car, in Avoca, Dec. 12, 1901.

He claims his injuries are of such a nature as to make it impossible for him to pursue his trade. His attorney is E. W. Thayer.

Special Term of Quarter Sessions. Monday next will begin a one-week special term of quarter sessions. The list is made up of minor cases not disposed of at the last regular term. Many cases remaining open were not put on the list because the attorneys for the defense will be in Philadelphia attending the Supreme court.

Judge W. Wheaton, of Wilkes-Barre, will preside in the main court room. Another judge from out of town will be secured, if possible, to conduct a second court, in No. 3.

Will Go to Supreme Court. Next week the Supreme court will hear Lackawanna cases. The list was published a week ago Thursday in The Tribune.

Among the attorneys who will attend the session will be ex-Judge J. W. Carpenter, O'Brien & Martin, Major Everett Warren, City Solicitor George M. Watson, Hon. M. E. McDonald, I. H. Burns, Welles & Torrey, W. S. Diehl, Cornelius Comegys, Thomas F. Wells, S. B. Price, H. C. Reynolds, C. W. Dawson, H. M. Hannah and W. W. Luchtrape.

A motion for the allowance of an appeal in the case of the Commonwealth against George W. Beale will be made Monday morning.

COURT HOUSE NEWS NOTES. On account of the illness of Judge Kelly, the hearing in the matter of fixing the sheriff's compensation for feeding prisoners was yesterday postponed until Monday.

Court yesterday made absolute the rule to remit the costs placed on the prosecutor, T. J. Logan, in the case of Commonwealth against John Coghlan. Mr. Logan was a prosecutor of the Coghlan, had Coghlan arrested for defaulting a board bill. When the case was called he failed to appear.

George Loveland, of Church avenue, was attacked by two Italians last night on North Main avenue, near Wood street. His cries brought assistance, and his two assailants were lodged behind prison bars within twenty minutes.

Loveland was walking along Main avenue about 8:30 o'clock and was passing Anthony Ruddy's store when the two Italians sprang at him from a doorway. They knocked him down, and were searching through his clothes when Mr. Ruddy came out of his store in response to Loveland's cries. One of the men turned on Ruddy and fired two shots from a revolver. Neither of them took effect, but both whistled dangerously close to Ruddy's head. He grabbed one of the men, and the pair dashed down the avenue, with a number of persons in pursuit.

Captain Cutler, of hose company No. 2, was attracted from the hose house by the scramble and gave chase to one of the men, overtaking and arresting him at the corner of Thompson street. The other Italian was captured by Patrolman Joller in the rear of John Bern's house, near the celebrated Red Barn, in which resort both prisoners are said to live.

The two men were taken to the police station, where one of them gave the name of Dominick Vulpa. The other refused to talk. Loveland was not badly injured, and will appear against the two men when they are arraigned before Magistrate Fidler this morning.

FACTS AS THEY ARE. Mrs. M. Y. Paul Was Not Formally Arrested.

Exception is taken by Mrs. M. Y. Paul to the statements in yesterday's papers, which would lead the public to believe she had been arrested and taken before Alderman Kasson for failing to put fire escapes on a building on Spruce street, owned by her.

Investigation shows that the facts are as follows: On the fourth floor of the Paul building, on Spruce street, rooms are rented by a man named Bernstein, who has three assistants in the manufacture of ladies garments. This factory inspector Bishop believes the building is in a catalogue of those used for manufacturing purposes and therefore under his care.

He thought the building ought to have fire escapes and he ordered them put on. Mrs. Paul's attorneys assured her the factory inspector had no right to take such steps and not to obey his request. She followed the advice of her counsel, and the factory inspector, to have his rights in the premises defined, swore out a warrant before Alderman Kasson. Mrs. Paul was notified of the fact, and after a conference with her counsel and Mr. Bishop, a time two weeks hence was fixed for a hearing. Mrs. Paul was not formally arrested, as might be inferred from what has appeared in print, and was not arraigned before the alderman.

GEORGE KAGLER ARRESTED. Charged with Disorderly Conduct by Stephen Dyer.

George Kagler, secretary of the street car men's union, was arrested yesterday at the instance of Special Agent Stephen Dyer, of the Scranton railway company, on the charge of disorderly conduct.

The warrant was issued by Alderman Howe, and Kagler will be given a hearing this morning. It is alleged that Kagler hurled vile epithets at employes of the street railway company.

ENJOYABLE ENTERTAINMENT. Programme Rendered at Y. W. C. A. Rooms Last Night.

A fair-sized audience attended an entertainment given last night in the Young Women's Christian association rooms on North Washington avenue, under the direction of Miss Pauline Hall, instructor in elocution.

Several selections were rendered by a ladies' orchestra, the members of which were chosen from among the association's members, and recitations were cleverly done by Miss Elizabeth Bell, Gladys Bell, Miss Nina Olmstead and Master W. Morgan. Mark Twain's ever-delightful account of how Tom Sawyer whitewashed the fence was read by Miss L. Gendall, a most accomplished young lady. Miss Hall herself gave a selected reading, and piano solos were rendered by Miss E. Barber and Miss R. Spruks.

The entertainment was the first of a series of three to be given for the benefit of the association. The next will be given on the night of March 25 and will take the form of an old-fashioned party to be given under the direction of Miss Anna Salmon.

ASSAULTED BY ITALIANS.

George Loveland Knocked Down by Two Men Last Night, Both of Whom Were Arrested.

George Loveland, of Church avenue, was attacked by two Italians last night on North Main avenue, near Wood street. His cries brought assistance, and his two assailants were lodged behind prison bars within twenty minutes.

Loveland was walking along Main avenue about 8:30 o'clock and was passing Anthony Ruddy's store when the two Italians sprang at him from a doorway. They knocked him down, and were searching through his clothes when Mr. Ruddy came out of his store in response to Loveland's cries. One of the men turned on Ruddy and fired two shots from a revolver. Neither of them took effect, but both whistled dangerously close to Ruddy's head. He grabbed one of the men, and the pair dashed down the avenue, with a number of persons in pursuit.

Captain Cutler, of hose company No. 2, was attracted from the hose house by the scramble and gave chase to one of the men, overtaking and arresting him at the corner of Thompson street. The other Italian was captured by Patrolman Joller in the rear of John Bern's house, near the celebrated Red Barn, in which resort both prisoners are said to live.

The two men were taken to the police station, where one of them gave the name of Dominick Vulpa. The other refused to talk. Loveland was not badly injured, and will appear against the two men when they are arraigned before Magistrate Fidler this morning.

THERE WERE FEW CHANGES

Vote of the two cities is now tabulated.

Costello's Majority Over Morris is 816, or Two Less Than Was Given in The Tribune's Table Which Was Made Up Before 12 O'clock Election Night—None of the Changes Affect a Result—Mayor-elect O'Neill's Majority Remains Unchanged—Corrected Table.

The tabulating of the vote of Scranton and Carbondale was completed yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The computing will be done today.

There were very few discrepancies between the open and closed returns. The vote in the Morris-Costello contest as recorded in The Tribune's table, made up at 11:55 p. m., on election night, underwent only two unimportant changes. In the Second district of the Fifth ward, Costello was credited in the open returns with 59. The stated returns gave him 60. In the Twenty-first ward, First district, The Tribune table gave Morris 153 votes, when he should have been credited with 161. The official computation will show that Costello had a majority of 816. The Tribune's table gave him a majority of 818.

In the ward and district offices in Scranton there were few discrepancies between the open and sealed returns and none of them were of importance. In Carbondale, where the vote for the city offices was close, the sealed returns were carefully scrutinized for possible discrepancies but none of any importance were disclosed. In the Second district of the Second ward, the open returns credited John Manley 89, while the sealed returns credited him with only 49. This only increased the majority of his opponent, Abe Sahn, from 249 to 282. A table of the vote cast in this city follows:

HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVANCE. Pupils Commemorate the Anniversary of Washington.

Exercises commemorative of Washington Day were conducted yesterday morning in the High school. The pupils and faculty assembled in the auditorium, during the first two recital hours, and listened to an interesting and appropriate programme, which had as its main feature an address by Principal Joslin on "The Life and Character of Washington."

The other numbers were selections by the school orchestra, patriotic songs by the school; an essay on "Washington's Life at Mt. Vernon," by Miss Edyth Walter; piano solo, Miss Charlotte Zurlini; violin solo, Miss Stackhouse; an address on "Washington as a General," by Horace Chandler, and anecdotes of Washington, by John Burns.

Why He Bet on Gray. Once, when Wayne MacVeagh had finished arguing a tedious technical case before the United States supreme court, speculation arose between Mr. MacVeagh and his colleague as to whom Chief Justice Fuller would assign to write the opinion, and a wager was made.

Just then Chief Justice Fuller came down the corridor of the court building. Mr. MacVeagh stopped him and told him of the wager, asking the Chief Justice to tell whom he would assign, as that would settle a bet.

"On whom have you placed your wager, Mr. MacVeagh?" the chief justice asked.

"Mr. Justice Gray," was the response.

"Why did you choose Mr. Gray?" queried Chief Justice Fuller.

"Because," replied Mr. MacVeagh, "I noticed he slept through the entire argument."
